

- All the examples in this book assume that your computer or terminal uses a standard US ASCII character set. If you cannot find some of the characters you need on your keyboard, or if Mathematica prints out different characters than you see in the book, you will need to look at your computer documentation to find the correspondence with the character set you are using.

```
Quit[ ]    end your Mathematica session
```

A way to exit Mathematica.