

■ In

`In[n]` is a global object that is assigned to have a delayed value of the n^{th} input line.

Typing `In[n]` causes the n^{th} input line to be reevaluated. ■ `In[ ]` gives the last input line. ■ `In[-k]` gives the input k lines back. ■ See page 577. ■ See also: `Out`, `$Line`.