

■ Characters

`Characters[expr]` gives a list of the characters in the printed form of expr.

Each character is given as a length one string. ■ Example: `Characters[3412]` $\longrightarrow$ `{3, 4, 1, 2}`. ■ The `InputForm` of expr is used. ■ See page 279.