

■ Superscript

`Superscript[expr]` prints expr as a superscript.

`Superscript[expr]` prints with the bottom of expr one character height above the baseline. ■ Example:

`f[Superscript[x], y]` $\longrightarrow$ `f[x, y]`. ■ See page 277. ■ See also: `Subscript`, `Subscripted`, `ColumnForm`.